

Join.Chat is a Blockchain Community Building Ecosystem

JoinChat is a public messenger for community management and selling of tokens. JoinChat contains functionality that helps the project team to interact with users promptly. The JoinChat audience will expand: the number of projects that sell tokens is increasing - the importance of creating a loyal community for tokens of decentralized projects is growing.

The incomplete toolkit of popular messengers enables JoinChat to take a significant market share by creating a functional platform designed to meet the needs of community project managers.
